

ARBUCKLE TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

England And Ireland Are Deadlocked

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Relations between England and Ireland stood today as they did before Eamon De Valera came to London on July 14 to discuss with Prime Minister Lloyd George a possible basis for ending the Irish controversy. The Sinn Fein leader yesterday made public his note to the prime minister affirming his stand that Irish republican plenipotentiaries could enter a conference only as delegates of an independent power, and Mr. Lloyd George quickly announced the cancellation of his invitation of Irish leaders to a purely at Ireeness.

It was made plain by the prime minister that he could not meet the Sinn Fein delegates if the claim of Irish independence and the sovereignty were insisted upon, but he did not close the door to further exchanges with the republicans.

Mr. Lloyd George is indisposed, and is confined to his room at Gairloch, Scotland, where he has been spending a vacation, and it is expected here that members of the British cabinet will confer with him before the government takes further steps.

The cabinet met at Ireeness on September 8, a committee was appointed to deal with any situation which might develop as a result of exchanges with Dublin. These ministers left Ireeness for various parts of Scotland and England immediately after the Ireeness meeting and it would take several days to gather them for a conference on the present critical situation.

The British parliament adjourned on August 29 until October 18, but Prime Minister Lloyd George announced before the adjournment that if negotiations with the Sinn Fein broke down and the position became hopeless, the speaker of the house of commons would be empowered, after consultation with the government, to summon parliament on forty-eight hours' notice.

There was no indication here today that the British government or the Sinn Fein would denounce the new arranged two months ago and resume the guerrilla warfare that cost scores of lives and destroyed property valued high in the millions. Warfare is the last thing either side desires, and no effort, apparently, will be made to prevent overt acts that will place on either the responsibility for resuming hostilities.

Last what the Sinn Fein would do was seemingly a difficult question today. Two points made by Mr. De Valera in his note to Mr. Lloyd George was closely examined by those who were trying to determine what plan the republicans had in mind. The first was the statement:

"The Sinn Fein has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state, and it is only as representatives of the state and its people, and powers to act in behalf of its people."

It was suggested that the Sinn Fein might intend to go to the Sinn Fein with the question, and seek to determine by a plebiscite what the desires of the people are.

The result of such a plebiscite would, it was pointed out, confirm the stand made by the republican leaders, or would give them a mandate to leave the demand for separation and enter a conference with the British government.

There has been a strong party in Ireland that has been urging an attempt to determine the steps taken, and a number of men in the ranks of the Sinn Fein who have been in a view to reaching a working agreement, and then approaching the British government once more.

To Protect Straw Hat Wearers

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The open season on straw hats was closed abruptly today by Magistrate McQuade. If his warnings have effect, New Yorkers may wear them even until Christmas immune from destruction. He announced that hereafter any smashers of straw headgear would be given the extreme penalty for felonious assault or larceny and sent to the workhouse. As a warning one young man who kicked a hat around was fined $5.

Favor Road Building This Winter

COLUMBUS, O., September 16.—Overwhelming sentiment in favor of uninterrupted road building throughout the winter is indicated, according to a statement issued at the governor's office today, by replies to questionnaires sent out state-wide by the Ohio Good Roads Federation. The replies embody views of farmers, merchants, professional men and workers, it was said.

More than ninety percent of the replies, it was said, pronounced it the duty of the state and subdivisions to continue public work in order to relieve the unemployed according to Secretary W. A. Alsford in his report to Governor Davis.

Ninety-two percent of the replies hold continuance of the road work to be advantageous to the farmer while eight percent hold otherwise. Eighty-eight percent were in favor of continued federal and state appropriations for completion of the state highway system.

With respect to the type of road construction 25 percent were in favor of roads to be built to stand the maximum legal load at all seasons of the year.

Hohenzollerns Flee Germany

DOORN, HOLLAND, Sept. 16.—The strong feeling against the ultra-conservatives in Germany which has manifested itself since the recent murder of Matthias Erzberger is believed here to be the cause of several members of the Hohenzollern family leaving Germany and coming to Doorn, where they are expected to remain with former Emperor William until they consider that conditions in Germany are favorable to their return. The ex-emperor's daughter, formerly Princess Victoria Louise, now the Duchess of Brunschwic, accompanied by the duke and their children, arrived here yesterday. With them also was former Prince Adolph, third son of the ex-empire. Former Prince Elton-Friedrich and Oscar are expected here shortly. It is understood.

Quizzed In Arbuckle Case

Mrs. Sidi Wirt Spreckles, widow of John D. Spreckles, Jr., was quizzed by District Atty. Brady regarding a visit she made to Miss Virginia Rappe, following the Arbuckle party. Mrs. Spreckles said she had known the Rappe girl since 1915 and went to see her after she was notified by Mrs. R. M. Delmont, a member of the party, that Miss Rappe was in a serious condition.

SCOTT FERRIS TIPPED FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Scott Ferris, former member of Congress from Oklahoma, may be the next chairman of the Democratic National Committee. George White, the present chairman, intends to resign if all the factions can agree on another chairman, who shall not have been identified with the quarrels of the past. The name of Mr. Ferris is being urged by his friends for that very reason. He was not present at the San Francisco convention where the rift between the McAdoo and Cox forces developed and he has not taken part in the controversies that have developed since that convention.

The public may not know it, but inside the Democratic party the contest over the selection of a chairman has been going on with the same intensity as might occur on the eve of a national convention. The struggle for control of the party machinery so as to influence the convention of 1924 in its choice of a Democratic nominee for the presidency has been at bottom responsible for the impetuosity of the Democrats since their overwhelming defeat last autumn. Although every consideration of strategy would seem to dictate that the party forces should be harmonized for the good of the party instead of the interests of any individual, the fact is the factions are as far apart as ever and pulling in all directions.

George White, the present chairman, holds the whip hand. He announced some time ago that he was eager to retire. He has done a creditable job as national chairman since 1921. State Auditor Tracy announced today. Under the law, each county retains half of the fines and the remainder goes to the state. Stark county, with $28,450, reported the highest sum, while Knox and Highland were low with $50 each. Nine counties made no reports.

Amounts received from counties follow: Allen $300; Ashland $1,225; But-

Held For Hitting Woman With Ax

Va., as he was attempting to cross a bridge into this city and was taken to the Hancock county jail at New Cumberland, W. Va., where he was committed on a charge of assault with intent to kill Mrs. Peter Jacobs, 28, at her home in Weirton yesterday.

Rogers was caught after an all night search by a posse under Sheriff William Mercer, of Hancock county.

Rogers is accused of hitting Mrs. Jacobs with an axe and crushing her skull when she attempted to protect her husband from Rogers' attack. Mrs. Jacobs was still living this morning, but had not regained consciousness. She has slight chance for recovery.

State Gets $249,887.95 As Share of Liquor Fines

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 16.—The state received $249,887.95 as its half of the liquor fines collected from November 2, 1920, the time the Cripple act became effective, up to September 1, 1921. State Auditor Tracy announced today. Under the law, each county retains half of the fines and the remainder goes to the state. Stark county, with $28,450, reported the highest sum, while Knox and Highland were low with $50 each. Nine counties made no reports.

Germany Plans Gold Loan Abroad

BERLIN, September 16.—Der Tag says the plan being entertained by the German industrial world for the purpose of enabling the government to meet its future reparations obligations is to raise a private gold loan abroad on the credit of German industries and agriculture.

A Berlin dispatch of Thursday quoted the Vossische Zeitung as saying it had learned that at an important conference Tuesday of Chancellor Wirth with representatives of banking and industrial organizations, the latter expressed readiness to supply the government with gold and foreign bills to meet future reparations payments. This was to be done, the newspaper added, and with the assistance of the foreign deposits and credits of the organizations represented in the conference.

Plan More Publicity

GENEVA, Sept. 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The assembly and council of the League of Nations today approved the choice by the joint conference committee of the two bodies of Judge E. V. N. Reichmann, of Norway, as the fourth deputy judge of the permanent international court of justice.

The resolution recently proposed by Lord Robert Cecil, asking the council of the league to give greater publicity to its proceedings, was adopted by the assembly.

Army Air Service Head Wants Transfer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Major General C. T. Menor, chief of the army air service, has formally asked Secretary Weeks for release from that office and transfer to command of troops in the field.

General Menor, who was appointed head of the air service late in 1918, after having commanded the forty-second, or Rainbow, division in France, refused to discuss the report.

Rumors have been prevalent in Washington for some time that either General Menor or Brigadier General Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, would resign as a result of friction between the two which culminated last spring in the chief asking for the relief of General Mitchell.

Want Change Of Venue

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 16.—Petitions for a change of venue from Sangamon county and affidavits alleging Judge E. N. Smith is prejudiced and could not give them a fair trial were filed with the court today by Governor Len Small and Vernon Curtis, Grand Park banker, both under indictment charged with embezzlement and operating a confidence game.

MOVIES AND MORALS HOW DO EMPLOYERS REGARD GIRLS? MRS. CALHOUN TELLS

Movies and morals are being discussed everywhere as a result of the Arbuckle case. What price must a girl pay for a movie career? people ask. The question is answered in this series of articles written especially for The Times by Mrs. Florence Calhoun, mother of Alice Calhoun, the Vitagraph star who in five years has risen from a $5-a-day extra to a $1000-a-week performer.

By FLORENCE CALHOUN
Mother of Alice Calhoun, Vitagraph Star, the Youngest in the Movies

THAT beauty is the only asset required to assure a girl success in the movies is a fallacy, but it is a popular belief.

Animated by it, many of Alice Calhoun's fans send her their pictures, asking if the originals are qualified for camera work.

Some are so charming that she often wonders why fate directed her instead of some other into the world of photo play.

Beauty is essential—but beauty of face and

Alice Calhoun
The girl on her way to stardom.
These temptations are not necessarily of shadowland. There are many outsiders who make it their avocation to prey upon the girls and women of screen or stage. These seem to think that because a girl entertains the public, she is public property.

Japan May Not Discuss Shantung

TOKIO, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—It was intimated in responsible circles here today that if China declines the recent proposal of Japan with regard to the turning of Shantung over to China, which the government considers eminently reasonable in nature, Japan may refuse to discuss the Shantung question at the coming Washington conference.

Relief Train Starts For The Interior

MOSCOW, Sept. 14.—(By the Associated Press)—The first American relief administration train bearing sugar, flour, rice, milk, beans and fats to the famine sufferers in the Volga district started for that region yesterday in charge of E. G. Garland, of San Francisco. It carried half a million rations in 28 freight cars, and three service cars, all bearing the sign of the relief administration. It had taken three weeks to load this food from Idaho, Latvia, to Moscow, which was discouraging to the relief workers, who were told five days would suffice.

Two more food trains, which already are in Moscow will be despatched to the Volga this week in an effort to effect distribution of the supplies before the rivers freeze.

Fighting Corn Borer

SANDUSKY, O., September 16.—The entomologists from eleven eastern and mid-western states, who sought the European corn borer, in conference here yesterday, left for Port Stanley, Ontario, this morning. They will resume their investigation and deliberations on the Canadian side of Lake Erie tomorrow.

Reports submitted here yesterday showed that the borer has made its appearance in every Lake Erie shore county between Buffalo and Cleveland and in seven scattered townships west of Cleveland.

Speakers at yesterday's conference, addition to E. D. Ball, assistant secretary of the United States department of agriculture, who presided, were W. R. Walton, in charge of corn borer investigation for the department, D. J. Caffery, a department specialist, and T. L. McLaughlin, entomologist inspector for the Dominion of Canada.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY IS PREPARED TO PROCEED

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., September 16.—District Attorney Brady announced in the police court of Judge Sylvain Lazarus today that "the people are ready to proceed on the murder charge" against Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, who is held responsible by the authorities for the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, a motion picture actress.

The announcement came after a conference between Brady and police officials called for the purpose of deciding which of the four charges against Arbuckle would be tried. There are two murder and two manslaughter charges pending against Arbuckle.

Judge Lazarus continued the case until next Thursday at 1 p. m.

Arbuckle, surrounded by his attorneys, stood up at the counsel table during the brief session. A crowd of men tried to rush the court room doors just before the hearing started, but were headed off by the police.

Frank E. Dominguez, chief counsel for Arbuckle, asked for a two days continuance, following Brady's statement. The district attorney objected saying five days should be sufficient.

"At the request into Miss Rappe's death you demanded a speedy hearing," Brady said, addressing the defense. "You also demanded a speedy trial, so why ask for such a long continuance? Why don't you put the defendant on the stand and let him tell his side of the case?"

Dominguez explained that the defense found it necessary to obtain considerable expert evidence before going ahead with even the police court examination.

"If the defendant is willing to stay in jail until his counsel prepares his case, the people of the state of California should not mind," Dominguez said.

Prosecution of the murder charge automatically denied the defendant his liberty on bail, court officials explained.

Counsel for both sides conferred between themselves and Dominguez then announced that they would set Thursday for stipulation for the preliminary hearing on the charge.

After the court session Brady announced that a representative of the district attorney's office is to wait on the finance committee of the county board of supervisors today and ask that every financial demand on the county for prosecution of the Arbuckle case be met promptly.

Mrs. J. G. Underwood of the Underwood Art Goods Company of the Masonic Temple, has returned from a ten days' business and pleasure trip to Columbus and Mansfield, Ohio.

A charming post-nuptial shower, honoring Mrs. Ralph Brandel (Margaret Hans), a bride of recent date was given last evening by Miss Marie Torges at her home Fifth and Market streets. A color scheme of pink and white was used in the various appointments of the evening, pink and white roses, mingled with fall flowers and ferns decorated the various rooms. Shortly after the arrival of the guests Mrs. Brandel was presented with a large basket decorated in pink and white and filled with all kinds of pretty gifts. The presentation was cleverly made by two charming little misses, Ruth Gelsler and Mildred Spangler. Clad in fairy like gowns of pink and white these little tots slowly wended their way through the rooms to the strains of a wedding march softly played by Mrs. William H. Torges, until they reached the place of the bride, where they deposited their treasure of gifts. After the presentation the guests spent the evening in games and social conversation after which a dainty pink and white ice course was served, by the hostess assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. William H. Torges to the following guests, Mesdames Harry Brandel, Charles Hans, Barbara Brandel, William H. Torges, Jr., Clarence Fisher, Norman Dorell, Anson, Jones, the Misses Norma Muller, Clara Hans, Edna Schaeffer, Vida Rose, Bertha Kellman, Mabel Knost, Alma Miller, Ida Bender, Margaret and Marie Torges.

All members of the S. S. G. Club are asked to meet this evening at the home of Miss Charlotte Crosby on Seventh street.

Corn Roast Enjoyed

It isn't always ledgerdom that can make things disappear—as was attested at the annual corn roast given under the auspices of the Loyd First Christian church Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, Ontonagon, near Wheelersburg. In all, it is reported $20 worth of delicious corn was brought by the 150 happy folks, and not one was left—everyone being eagerly devoured.

For there is nothing better in all the world than a properly roasted ear of corn. Early in the evening, a great pile of oak logs were piled high and a match did the rest. When the big crowd arrived at 7 o'clock the embers were a mass of red hot coals and the roasting ears were tossed therein and in about twenty-five minutes were ready for the butter and salt. In the meantime old fashioned games were played, in which the old and young participated, and it can be truthfully said the crowd of merry makers made the welkin ring. It was one of the happiest outings in the history of the Loyd C. E., for the invitation was broad and wide, including as it did the entire membership of the Inter-mediator C. E. and in fact every member of the church. The guests were taken to the corn feast via autos and trucks, and there was plenty of fun going and coming, the night being suited to the occasion which has become an established custom among the Endeavors, who never do things by halves.

More Business, Another Truck

In order to properly care for increasing business, due to the inauguration of his new bread, "Kleen Maid," Adam Pfau, proprietor of the Model Bakery, has found it necessary to purchase a new truck, which made its appearance on the streets for the first time Thursday. The truck is a beauty from an artistic standpoint, being lettered in gold leaf, while a picture of the trade mark, "Kleen Maid," stands out very conspicuously. Mr. Pfau stated that should his additional truck prove inadequate for prompt delivery, he would immediately place an order for an additional one.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT. AIR Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no jumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal-oil). The inventor, D. R. Johnson, 221 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Advertisement

WOMAN DROWNS SELF

Mrs. Lillian McFadden Todd, aged about 62 years, well known resident of Hamden community, took her own life several days ago by drowning herself in Pigeon Creek near her home. The body was found in the creek near Myers Junction and near the B. & O. telegraph office at that place. Mr. Todd heard his wife get up about four o'clock in the morning, but thinking she was going to get breakfast did not get up until six o'clock. He did not find her about the house at this time, but did not worry about her, thinking she had gone to the home of her son, like she had on other occasions. Mr. Todd went to meet a B. & O. train and a school teacher whom he took to Pleasant Valley school, on his return from the school he stopped at the home of Wesley McFadden, his wife's son, and on not finding his wife there, started a search. About one o'clock in the afternoon the husband found the body floating in Pigeon creek at a spot used for a swimming hole. Several years ago Mrs. Todd attempted to take her life by jumping into a well. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. George Remy, and a son, Wesley McFadden, of Myers, and a son, Clarence McFadden.

$30,000 FIRE AT SCIOTO FURNACE

Fire between one and three o'clock this morning totally destroyed the Harrison-Walker Refractories Company's clay mill at Scioto Furnace, this county, the loss to building and machinery being close to $30,000 with no insurance.

Just how the fire started is un-effort to save any part of the structure, the building being a mass of ruins. The dry wood work of the mill, the blaze had made such rapid headway that it was useless to make any of hours the mill was a mass of ruins.

The clay mill was of frame and brick construction. The heart of the fire was in that part of the mill occupied by the drying machinery when discovered and it is thought that it was in this section of the mill that it had its origin.

J. W. Jenkins is superintendent of the works at Scioto Furnace. This is the second bad fire that has destroyed Harrison-Walker property in this section within the last year. The company is now busy rebuilding the plant destroyed at Gallia and Campbell avenue.

Fringed Boots

A. D. 1603

"In James I reign the tops of boots were very large, were fringed with lace and turned down as low as the floor. These latter were so long that a gentleman had to 'straddle' when he walked in order to avoid catching the fringes on one foot with the floor of the other."

A new attitude toward clothes

WELL—styles have changed since the reign of James I. And even the most crabbed of us will admit that they have changed for the better.

Today there is a new attitude toward men's clothing. We are beginning to realize that our clothing should reflect the spirit of our time and surroundings.

Designed in New York, Cortley Clothes express the alert spirit of the metropolis—its assurance of correctness, its excellence of material and the finest of tailoring, they add an elusive element of style which gives a smartness and individuality that is thoroughly distinctive.

Snakes Abound In Kentucky

The Vanceburg Sun comes right back this week with the following additional snake stories:

Happy Hollow, Ky. (Special to the Sun).—Snakes abound here this year, but there are a few less now. Last week they died as follows: Elmer Hardyman killed two large copperheads; Artie Hardyman killed one near his house; John B. Fite slew two large ones near his apple house.

Heselen, Ky.—(Special to The Sun).—Seeing several snake stories in the Sun last week, I will add another one. About two weeks ago while Mrs. Mayme Vance was doing her ironing, having used all the fuel out of the woodbox, she reached down and came near taking hold of a large spotted snake. It began to strike at her and she then threw a hot iron on it but that didn't hold the reptile and she threw another one. Having no other irons handy, she ran for the corn knife and the hatchet and proceeded to kill the snake. She says she cannot account for the snake being in the house.

The crack Waverly aggregation will stack up against the fast Menocs nine of Chillicothe in a combat to be staged in the latter city Sunday. These two teams locked horns recently and the Chillicothe clan capped the decision by the tight count of 1 to 0 after 12 rounds of exciting play. The Pike county tribe hope to move up on this occasion and with that end in view have strengthened their lineup by the addition of several diamond stars from this city. A big delegation of fans will accompany the team to the ancient metropolis to urge their pets on to victory.

Church Will Observe "Get Together Week"

The First Christian church of this city has inaugurated a move that will doubt be eagerly watched by the church world. It will be what the pastor, Rev. Charles R. Oakley has termed a "Get Together Week" and will be observed during the week of October 2-8. The purpose of the program, which will be continued from night to night throughout the week will be for the church to get under the whole program of the church morning and evening services, prayer meeting, Bible study, missionary societies, Endeavor societies, women's unions, etc., in one words to emphasize every department of the entire organization with every member of the church doing his whole duty. The plan, so far as known, has never been tried, but Rev. Oakley and the heads of the various departments are very enthusiastic over the outlook and they will meet this evening at the church to map out a tentative program. The big Bible school is right now where it should be, but the heads of the various departments are determined to place every auxiliary of the church in the 100 per cent. efficiency class. When that is accomplished, Rev. Oakley and his committee of eight will feel that the church will be in a position to push forward at a more rapid pace and accomplish the purpose for which it is established. The committee, which will meet this evening at 7 o'clock will be composed of Rev. Oakley, chairman, C. M. Howland, superintendent of the Bible school, Robert Holbrook, president of the Local Christian Endeavor Society, Guelord Ribble, president of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society, Miss Valona Oakley, president of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society, Mrs. William Haggerty, president of the Women's Union, Mrs. Lee Stutzman, president of the Missionary Society, Miss Charlotte Buckley, president of the Missionary Triangle, and Gifford Williams, president of the official Board.

looks of a kind which will photograph to advantage, good health is the next essential to film stardom.

It cannot be denied that beauty of a certain special type which directors and camera men recognize at a glance is a factor in the making of a star.

This is not the wear and tear of dissipation—but the strain and tension of quick and precise acting before the camera.

Every woman knows the effect of overwork upon good looks—until one has recuperated.

The movie industry is run primarily to make money. A high salaried star is a large investment. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are invested in her name alone.

Hence movie producers want a star to safeguard her health. They prize most the star whose private life is such that she will serve them longest on the screen.

This means that every girl, hoping to make a substantial success in the movies, must obtain her life with care.

But there is a supreme morale without which no movie artist ever arrived anywhere. Of it I will write tomorrow.

NEWS EVENTS IN PICTURES

Clay Is Their "Bread"

"Bread" made of clay and grass is the food of many in starving Russia. How the people are through lack of food and other necessities of life, is shown by this picture of two Russian refugees in the famine belt. The woman, who looks 70 is 40 years old. The man is 38.

Explorer and Adopted Girl

A Kiss For A Vote

Ruby Miller, London actress, is a strong supporter of the Lloyd George government. That's why she is kissing this English butcher. The butcher intended to vote for the Lloyd George candidate in the Abbey by-elections anyhow, but he didn't say so until after he received the kiss.

Hughes Poses as Golfer

Secretary of State Hughes in an enthusiastic golfer, but never before has he been photographed while enjoying the game. This picture, taken at Graystone, the Hughes home overlooking Rock Creek Park, Washington, shows the secretary as his own caddy.

Scott Ferris

The national committee to pick a new chairman between presidential elections unless one resigns and although the McAdoo forces probably have a majority in the national committee, it is unlikely that they would compel White to resign. Considerations of harmony would prevent such a hasty move.

So Mr. White, while willing to resign, insists that he will not do so until all factions have agreed upon a man who can be trusted to manage the party's affairs not in the interest of Mr. McAdoo or Mr. Cox, or any other potential candidate. The McAdoo people would like to see Daniel C. Roper named. He is a capable executive and would make a splendid chairman, but his selection would be opposed by the Cox wing of the party because Mr. Roper was pre-convention manager for McAdoo and would not have the confidence of all factions. Others have been mentioned who have at one time or another taken sides on the matter of presidential candidates. What Mr. White wants is some one who hasn't been a partizan of anybody and who is at the same time representative of the progress for change in the Democratic party.

There is no certainty that the Cox forces would give their approval to the selection of Scott Ferris, for they have had their minds set on getting somebody affiliated more closely with the party machinery in the larger states. But in behalf of Mr. Ferris, it is being urged that he managed the congressional campaign committee of the Democratic party when he was in Congress and that he had at the time the full support of Woodrow Wilson.

Mr. Ferris ran for United States Senate against Senator Gore in the Democratic primaries, and defeated him. Except for the Republican line, which he had, he would have been elected because Gore (Ohioan) was so far in the Senate that he had not yet arrived at the San Francisco convention then as a delegate. The Ohioan delegation, moreover, stood behind him in the candidacy of Senator Gore.

Former President Wilson has had a conference with George White, but the latter says the relationship was not friendly. Mr. Wilson has also conferred with George Blandin, Democratic leader for a Illinois. There is no reason to believe that the former president is showing himself in party politics. The Democratic Party is divided in the Democratic party, springs entirely from those who believe the McAdoo and Cox forces must get together on a compromise candidate for chairman. The truth is several followers of Cox have said they have not pledged themselves to the former Ohio governor for 1924, but they simply want to see how public sentiment develops. If it appears that Cox can be nominated and elected, they will be for him again. If it looks as if McAdoo is the stronger man, they will swing in behind him.

But from every side comes the warning that unless the leaders forget in divisions for the present and work harmoniously for the party machinery will not function and the nomination will not be worth having.

Has Made Life Worth Living

"Tanlac has been a blessing to me as it has made life worth living," said Mrs. Irene Griffiths, Terrell, Ohio. "I actually dreaded going to the table, as I knew no matter how tired I was about what I ate or how little I ate I would suffer misery hours afterwards. I even suffered at night so much from indigestion I couldn't sleep hardly at all. In the morning I would get up completely worn out. I almost despaired of getting well again, for nothing I tried seemed to reach my case."

"Tanlac did for me what all the other medicines I tried failed to do. Now I am in perfect health. I eat heartily and nothing disagrees with me and at night I sleep as calmly and peacefully as a child. My complexion has cleared up and my friends tell me they never saw me look as well as I do now. I feel I owe more to Tanlac than I can ever repay."

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH FRECKLES AND WHITEN SKIN

Put the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan bleach, and complexion whitener.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes bleach out and how clear, soft and rose-white the skin becomes.—Advertisement.

Dear Miss Wise—As I was driving from Portsmouth to Chillicothe I met two ladies driving in a Dodge car and one of them had on a blue striped dress. Dolly could you tell me if the one with the blue striped dress was married or single.

BILLIE.

I can't tell from here Billie, maybe if you would consult a mind reader she could tell you.

ANGRY WIFE.

There isn't a man so thin-skinned that a little flattery from a girl won't make him smile back at her, even if he is married. You don't want him to go around looking like he had just swallowed a jumbo pickle, do you?

Dear Dolly—Please print in today's paper the recipe you gave last year for spiced or sweet pickle pears. I used it last season and liked it very much but have misplaced it.

EVERY DAY READER.

Take 4 pounds of sugar to 7 pounds of fruit, one pint of vinegar, 1-2 ounce of ginger root, one teaspoonful of ground cloves, two teaspoons of allspice, two teaspoons of cinnamon, one half teaspoon of ground mace, heat the fruit in the mixture and can. Apples may be spiced the same way.

Dear Miss Wise—I am sore at myself and everybody else, all because I got stung in my wife. I thought I was getting the sweetest girl on earth and she turned out to be a regular cyclone. Believe me, Dolly, a 40-mile gale hasn't anything on her when she gets started. If I had my way I would stop all couples about to get married and tell them to look before they leaped. Married life is not what people think it is. What do you say Dolly?

MARRIED MAN.

I can't speak from experience, but I know lots of married people who seem to be happy—or at least make people believe they are happy. Just because you didn't get the right party when you got married, don't think all weddings are like the business of telephone. Some people do get the right connection. While others merely get a party line.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print in your column a recipe for making corn without using so much salt and also a recipe for making slaw.

THANKS.

Both these recipes were printed in this column Tuesday night of this week.

WANT TO KNOW.

I think if you will wash your face with hot water and a good soap, using a rag or complexion brush you will get rid of your black heads. You should keep the pores clear with a good cold cream.

Wash for Pimples—Glycerine half and half with water. Rub into this powdered sulphur (flower of sulphur) rub this on the face at night and wash off in the morning with a good soap and water to which a few drops of ammonia has been added. This is said to whiten the skin and remove the oiliness that troubles some complexions.

How To Get Relief From Rheumatism

Scientists Agree That the Cause Is Due to Waste Products in the Blood

The blood is the means by which all tissues, muscles, ligaments and flesh of the body are directly and indirectly nourished. It is also thru the blood stream that the various tissues and waste products are cast out of the system.

When waste products accumulate, they are a menace to life. They cause a lowered vitality, many skin disorders and rheumatism. Genuine relief from the agonies of rheumatism can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Both taking S. S. S. today and writing for 25 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About Blood."

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

NEEDS TELEGRAM

It was a very funny story that suddenly decided not to telegraph her husband, in spite of her wild desire to do so. Far better to let her mother, in-law do all the mischief she wished, and then see how Ned would react to it. After all he was a man, and like most men despised intrigue and back-stabbing among the women of his family. Far better for Cherry to stand pat, and refuse to throw any dirt, no matter what she happened.

Mrs. Randall had sent off a telegram to her son asking him to return as soon as possible, as things were at times and she was without him and to please come at the earliest moment.

In return he would return at the time he had stated to Cherry, and not before, and ended it by sending his love to Cherry.

Of course the astute lady said nothing of the contents of this note to her daughter-in-law. She was too infuriated by it and at the thought that her son had got away from her early training, entirely. It was the first time he had refused to come to her call, and her power was certainly waning, and for all this she had Cherry to thank, a girl who had done nothing but cause his unhappiness ever since she had entered the family. Well, Ned, would have enough of her and her ways before long. Then he would need his mother again. Only a mother could understand a son. It was always his mother that a man ran to when in deepest distress.

Of course she would send him ever so gently when he did come to her, because of his folly in bringing home a girl like Cherry. By that time he would not mind her reminding him of the sort of person his wife really was. Ned, being young, would soon get over it and marry again, some sensible, home-loving girl this time. And to this Mrs. Randall looked forward cheerfully.

It was totally by accident that Cherry discovered the contents of Ned's note to his mother later in the day. Mrs. Randall had left the telegram open on the mantelpiece in the library, and it was impossible not to read it in passing.

"Darned for Neddy," was Cherry's first thought. "Good boy. Didn't for help me out little bit. But she doesn't seem to think so. They were all screaming about the write-up. Just now, down to the drug store, sis, but you should worry. At least you've shown them that you have the courage of your convictions. They are a lot of 'traid cats, the women in Wellsburg, anyhow. I never could see how they managed to pass their time. They have so few real interests."

I am sending you a picture of a baby who suffered dreadfully from a baby rash—and I used Sykes Comfort Powder with great success after everything else had failed to heal it."

Mrs. C. K. Humphries, Nurse, Northampton, Mass.

MOTHER'S CAREFUL PATCH ON LINING OF IRA ROUSH'S COAT MAY CONVICT SLAYER

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., Sept. 16.—A mother's careful stitching of a patch extension into the lining of her son's coat sleeves may be the obstacle the defense will find insurmountable in the trial of W. H. "Holly" Griffith, double life taker in the state penitentiary, brought here to answer to an indictment to murdering Ira Roush, 23, Antiquity, Ohio, boatman. It became known when the first fifteen witnesses for the state were examined before the circuit court here.

Prosecutor Robert L. Hogg was weaving a strong web of circumstantial evidence about the accused Griffith beginning with his alleged arrival at

Antiquity, Ohio, a few miles above

Antiquity, and tracing his alleged movements almost step by step and minute by minute from there to the Roush home, to the boat deal and the ill-fated voyage of the motor boat Ben

Hur.

Court Room Crowded

Spectators who stood all day in the crowded court room here, seeking thrills in the trial of the notorious outlaw, were not disappointed. The star witness was easily Wade Roush, 48, father of the dead young man. He was the ninth witness to be called by the state and while he was on the stand this afternoon the prosecution introduced the suit of clothes worn by the murdered youth. The coat is said to have been worn by Griffith when he was arrested in South Carolina and when he was visited for identification purposes by Wade Roush, the father, and Sullivan Sayre, 53, an uncle at the penitentiary after his return to the institution.

Prosecutor Hogg produced a box in court, which, when opened before the jury contained this coat, and the muddy trousers and other clothing, the latter found on the body.

Young Roush's father was asked to describe the manner in which his son was dressed when he left the house with the stranger, whom the older Roush had done this he was asked if he could identify the clothing if he saw it. He replied in the affirmative.

The box containing the clothing was laid on the table and opened. The coat, comparatively clean, was atop the blood-stained other garments. The older Roush picked up the coat, trembling visibly, but speaking a firm voice: "That is positively Ira Roush's coat," he said.

"How do you identify it?" he was asked.

"Ira was tall," answered Roush. He weighed 180 pounds and had long arms. When he bought this suit from Thad Ellis' store in Racine, the sleeves were too short. My wife took a piece of plaid cotton goods and lengthened the sleeves, using the goods to piece out the lining. See here in the sleeve lining, turning the sleeves wrong side out, "and here," pulling a similar piece of plaid cotton of a particular pattern from his pocket, "is the goods, gentlemen, that my wife had left over."

Points at Griffith

Facing the prisoner he cried, "And there is the man, Holly Griffith, who had this coat upon his back when I went to Moundsville to identify him."

"Are you sure you can identify the man?" he was asked.

"Yes sir! There he sits, right there. That is the man."

During the remainder of his testimony the older Roush identified the other clothes of his son and told in detail of the visit of the stranger identified as the prisoner to his house. He told of finding the stranger in conversation with Ira concerning the purchase of the Ben Hur when he came home at five o'clock of the day before. The two left in the craft, never to return.

He told of the entertainment of the stranger at supper that evening, of their talk over the proposed boat sale before the fire in the living room not long after midnight and of the retirement for the night of the stranger and his son, both sleeping in the same bed.

"The stranger represented himself as a produce dealer upon a large scale, who was to open branches in Point Pleasant and Huntington," said Mr. Pleasant and Huntington.

Roush, "and stated he wanted a large power craft in which to convey his produce."

Mr. Roush then told of a seven o'clock breakfast the next morning and the departure.

The day was Thursday, January 13. The stranger and his son left for Point Pleasant where his son was to receive money for the boat. That was his last view of his son, he said, until his body was recovered from the river.

The details of the visit of the stranger to the Roush home were also borne out by the testimony of Roy Roush, 38, brother of the murdered man, Sarah Roush, his sister and Hubert Dickens, 20, a neighbor, who called upon the night of his visit.

Storekeeper Testifies

William Thaddeus Ellis, 51, proprietor of a store at Racine, was called to testify that young Roush bought the suit of clothes at his store and to give expert testimony upon the marking tags of clothes, the lot number tags being still on the vest of the suit.

Of the fifteen witnesses called by the state each identified Griffith as the stranger, clad in overalls a light colored overcoat and light colored cap, whom they saw in Antiquity or vicinity just before the disappearance of Young Roush. In only one case did the witness refuse to make his identification positive. This was C. A. Price, 74, of Lotat Falls, Ohio, near Antiquity, who said he was in McClain's store when a stranger, dressed as the others described, entered and tendered a new $20 bill for a cigar.

"That gentleman looks a good deal like him," he replied, when asked to point out the man in the court room.

Ross Norris, 22, of Lotat Falls, also in the store at the time, was more positive. After he had been led to describe the stranger's dress and appearance first, he was firm in contending that Griffith was one and the same.

Lewis McClain, 66, the storekeeper also was positive in his identification and told how Griffith had walked down the road toward Antiquity after loading in the store about half an hour.

Walter Sayre, 42, of Antiquity, said he was the man who directed Griffith to Ira Roush as the owner of the motor boat that Griffith had expressed a wish to purchase.

Margaret Liffelich, of Pomeroys, was the first witness called in the trial. She forged the first link in the state's promised chain of evidence in Apple Grove, while enroute to Antiquity.

Wade Bidlee, also of Apple Grove said he saw Griffith pass his house a half mile above Apple Grove and later saw him in the Liffelich store.

Lige Shields, 20, also said he saw Griffith in the Apple Grove store. After each witness told of the stranger and then pointed out Griffith as the man they had seen, the prisoner was told to rise from his chair. He did this fifteen times during the day. As he rose smiling after the first identification, that by Miss Liffelich, Mrs. Wade Roush, gray-haired mother of the murdered boy, who was standing among the spectators, saw him for the first time.

Spectators were electrified by a scream: "Oh, Griffith, you dirty dog, how could you kill my boy?" cried Mrs. Roush. Sobs, she sobbed and was removed from the court room. She did not reappear during the trial. Griffith's own father and mother were sitting near his side when the incident occurred. It took some moments to quiet the court room.

Clyde Smith, 36, night watchman on the Ohio river ferry Ann Bailey, gazing between Point Pleasant and Kanawha, and the last man to have seen young Roush alive, had just completed his testimony when court adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The state will at that time call other witnesses. It was stated, who will trace the course of the stranger in the Ben Hur "down the river, to its stop at Catlettsburg, Ky., South Point, Ohio, for gasoline and repairs, in Portsmouth, where the boat was abandoned."

Every witness for the state today was put through a grilling cross-examination by the defendant's attorney in an effort to break down their identification of Griffith as the "mysterious stranger."

In making the formal statement for the defense this morning R. H. Bree, of the defense counsel, said that a complete alibi will be shown for Griffith showing that he did not pass through this section of the state at all. "Rather," asserted Mr. Bree, "it will be positively proven that Griffith arrived in Clarkburg on Sunday, January 9, and stayed in that city until the following Sunday, January 16, during which time he was seen by a number of persons."

Ironton Man Is Train Victim

Evan Williams, formerly employed by the Ironton Transfer & Storage Co., here, was killed by a railway train at Mentor, Ky., Tuesday, September 6th, word to this effect being received by his daughter, Mrs. Mary Barnett, of near Tenth and Chestnut streets. The remains are being held at Mentor, near Newport, Ky., pending completion of arrangements for the funeral and the holding of an investigation into the circumstances of his death by the Kentucky Authorities; there being no known witnesses to the tragedy.—Ironton.

Bids For Bridge Repairs High

Repair work on the old covered river bridge, between Waverly and Greeng's Mill is just about as far along as it was a month ago. On last Friday, bids were received for the repair of the three wooden spans and two approaches, repairing of the floor system of the two approaches and the repair of one pier, but all bids were above the $8,500 estimate. The Presenting Attorney and Auditor are of the opinion that a ruling of Attorney General Price may apply in this case. The repair or construction work on bridges may be done by the method known to contractors as "force account work." This method of procedure would eliminate delay, as it would be necessary to readvertise for both the contract work and sale of bonds, and another estimate placed upon the work. Waverly Republican-Herald.

Waverly Hi Should Not Forget That New Boston Has A Grid Team With Championship Aspirations

Evidently, they are going to have a football team in the high school this fall, and no one knows it better than the business men of the town. On last Friday and Saturday, a boy of luxury beatified of the high school swooped down on the town beseeching a dollar or whatever you might want to give to help buy twelve uniforms for the boys, the totals cost being $252. Howard Middleton is training the boys and he knows how to make a team, for he played on the Ohio Wesleyan last season. Already, he has them in training and great progress is shown and we would not be surprised if Waverly didn't cop the Southern Ohio championship this time. —Waverly Republican-Herald.

This Is What We Do

WE permit you to pick out any "Lorain-equipped" gas range in our stock. We'll deliver it. Disconnect your old stove. Move it out of your way. Connect up the new range. Send a trained expert to your home to instruct you in the many different and wonderful things that a "Lorain-equipped" Gas Range makes possible. If, after using the range for thirty days, you don't want it, we'll replace the old stove, take the new one back, and charge you nothing for the whole transaction.

This Is Why We Do It

EVERY great invention has had to be proved to the public. Of course we know what a "Lorain-equipped" range will do; the manufacturers know—but you don't know. Also, we know it would be mighty hard work to convince you with words that "Lorain" is the greatest cooking invention of the age. The manufacturers know this, too. So, together, we've planned this method to prove ABSOLUTELY to a limited number of women the almost unbelievable accomplishments of a "Lorain-equipped" gas range.

RELIABLE ANGELON GAS RANGES WITH LORAIN OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

This Is What "Lorain" Is

The "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator is a patented device attached to the oven of certain makes of stoves. This attachment permits the housewife to regulate accurately and control indefinitely the exact temperature of an oven. "Lorain" is not a thermometer. There is nothing to break, or get out of order. It is as simple to operate as a door knob.

This Is What "Lorain" Does

"Lorain" makes it possible for you to stew, boil, bake, roast in the oven—all at the same time—and without watching. It enables you to can fruits and vegetables in a new way—quickly, easily, deliciously, always successfully. "Lorain" enables you to duplicate exactly every cooking success—the same flavor, the same color, the same fluffiness, crispness, or flakiness. It enables you to cook a whole meal just right, while away from home for two, three, four, five, or six hours.

This Is What YOU Should Do

You should take immediate advantage of this remarkable opportunity to try out for four whole weeks in your own kitchen the greatest gas range improvement ever designed. You should take advantage of this offer because it costs you nothing. If you like good things to eat—if you want to be economical—if you want to get away from stove-duties and pot-watching—if you want to live the happiest summer you've ever lived—get one of these wonderful stoves in your kitchen immediately.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Sunny skies. A day for play. There's something impressive about a church spire. Fifth Avenue parading to tea. Aristocratic feet. Delicately chiseled ankles. Superannuated children with veined hands deep in leather arm chairs. That looks like Gloria Swanson in a brougham.

Entrance to the Central Park Bridge Path. Caraveling chargers anxious to go. White cord breeches. Rust-red sweaters. Superbly cut boots. Flashing spurs. Venerable toy balloon hawkers trailing white-capped nurses. I stepped on that lady's foot. Wonder if she sees my ears flushing red.

Vincent Astor going home. And there's Elbert Gary in a motorcar. Wish that doorman at the Plaza would bow to me for there goes my tailor, Columbus Circle. Lots of the gaudy limousines around here. Keen eyes glittering in eagle faces. Whatever became of Jack Rose?

Seems to be more activity along Automobile Row. All the salesmen are Beau Brummels. Boys rolling tires. Broadway's only tree—below Fifty-ninth street—is losing its leaves. Pedestrians shouting under the rumbling elevated. Ice cream soda—five cents a glass. That's the pepper!

The deers are climbing into the yaps wagons. Henry Hobart and George Arliss promoting the Radio. That woman is ablaze with diamonds. Probably a bootleg queen. The few cabarets, closed for the summer, are opening for the autumn season. Looks like a tough winter for them. The Times has a new electric sign and the building is all freshly scrubbed. It ought to become famous. It once refused to give me a job.

It is an old custom for Central Office men to be stationed near the various newsstands around New York selling papers from all cities. The theory is that the criminal, craving news from his home town, will eventually call. But the crooks have learned of this and now they send messenger boys. The detectives in turn are following the messenger boys and three criminals were nabbed last week.

A New York magazine editor tells me that in his opinion people are tired of almost every kind of fiction—save the mystery story. It is his belief that people want to be thrilled and it is noticeable that the thriller is remaining long at Broadway playhouses. One magazine has dropped all stories of success and how-to-action. Arnold Bennett once observed of a certain honeyed magazine published in America that it was a monthly assurance that all was right with the world.

Rents are not going up although the landlords made one last desperate effort to gouge renters. In one walk of ten blocks I found 14 vacant apartments, ranging from two rooms to six rooms. In several cases signs would be in effect at once. Brooklyn has any number of apartments for rent. The co-operative apartment house plan is finding many investors. In the artistic colony on West Sixty-seventh street there are six co-operative apartment buildings where each tenant owns his apartment. The Cafe des Artistes is in the midst of this colony and nearly all of the magazine cover men and illustrators live in the neighborhood.

An Old Lady in College
Is it too violent a stretch upon the imagination to visualize classes of old ladies and old men in the ancient languages, and mathematics? What a field the Greek Testament offers! But alas! in most cases the intellect of the only tool of the intellect we now possess, the brain, makes this dream or renewing youth impossible. But the old lady at Racine, Wis., Mrs. Amy Winship has attended five colleges in the eleven years since she was 70.

One of the horrors of old age is loss of interest in affairs. Current events become trivial political questions, distasteful, and all the multitude of affairs, business or professional, in the midst of which life has been spent lose their charm. That is real old age, whether it comes at 50 or at 80—the period in which one draws apart from the drama of life on earth.

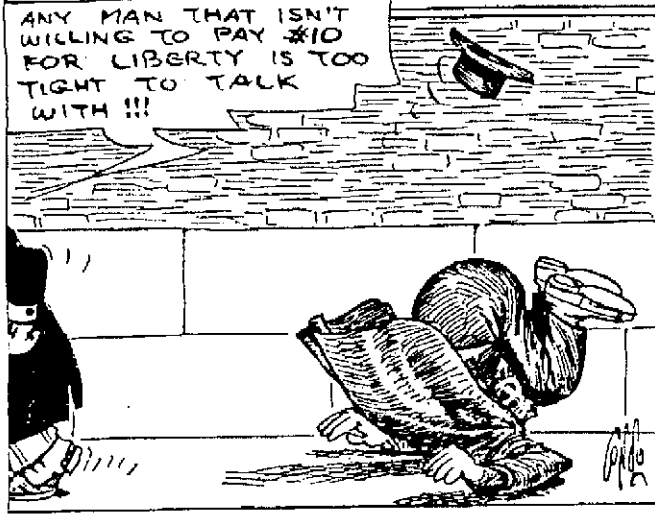

An old lady at Racine, Wis., is making a novel escape from the boredom of advanced years. She is 90, and has taken up a college course. Is it a solution of her problem?

Few men of liberal education who have led busy lives but have felt at times a desire to take up one or more branches studied at college, and regretted lack of time in which to do it.

A quotation from Virgil or Homer starts a wish to go through them in the original Latin and Greek. Algebra, geometry, trigonometry and astronomy appeal for renewed acquaintance. But as a rule none are pursued.

The News of The Day

The news presented by the daily papers may roughly be divided, like Gaul, into three parts—foreign, domestic and local. Its analysis and subdivision by an intelligent reader make an interesting study, and are likely to result in astonishment when comparisons are made; but only by so doing may the reader arrive at a fair conclusion of the values of different papers.

Foreign news is usually political, commercial, scientific and social. It may be measured in inches, weighed in value, and marked as a teacher marks an examination paper, according to its accuracy, literary style, importance, and completeness.

Domestic news may undergo the same analysis, with especial reference to its character. It includes all telegrams and correspondence from points in the United States. A study of it rarely fails to disclose the moral standards of the paper, which always reflects the judgment of its proprietor of managing editor as to true news values.

Local news yields similar rewards to the investigator. It affords many clues to the motives and purposes of publishers: political, personal, financial and social—and is certain to reveal the appeal of the publication, whether it be to depraved tastes, to ignorance, to purity, to patriotism, to high standards, to frivolity, or to other mental trends and sordid or exalted emotions.

The editorial columns of a newspaper are hardest to judge. Their columns are often shifting, a spectrum of many tints and shadings. But one may always discern when yellow predominates over true blue. And always a paper may be fairly characterized when its news appeal and its editorial content are in contrast. In such cases we may be sure duplicity is at work.

"Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts," said the Psalmist. Search your newspaper.

Billiards For Ladies

"Women get slim at billiards," says a headline. "If they're not too far gone." A most entertaining game, possessing the characteristic of all true sports, that of interesting beginners as well as those skilled in them. If our money is not at fault billiards is of French origin. It has long been a popular game in England, and has found its way into literature. Cowper mentions it in one of his poems.

Originally pockets were used on the tables, but now caroms alone count. It is a game of fascinating quality, in which may be developed knowledge of angles, delicacy of touch, and remarkable skill in the control of the balls. Some forty years ago came a variation of the game, pool, in which the pocketing of balls count for points instead of caroms, but it is a game which bears about the same relation to billiards that checkers does to chess.

It has never been much of a lady's game except in the homes of the rich, because a private table requires a large room and a comfortable outlay, but it is a fine game to play and permits easy conversation even while requiring concentration.

Circulation has been known to make a hit with a miss.
When actors quarrel they can resort to the makeup box.
It's an easy matter to sympathize with the poor when your pocket is empty.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will let the chaplain or matrons in the theater party precede you to the seats, if you are one of the younger feminine members of the party.
You will always introduce to your chaplain or parents the man who comes to your seat at the theater or to your table in the restaurant, to talk for a moment.
You will not remove your gloves until you are seated at the table, if you are dining in a public place.

Open Lubricating Station

With the announcement that H. Rea Selby and father Pearl Selby have secured a lease on Simon Label's lot at the southeast corner of Second and Gay streets, came the announcement by Messrs. Selby that they would erect a building on the lot which will be occupied by a new kind of business in Portsmouth, a novel lubricating station, operated by Mr. Rea Selby and his father.

They have recently taken the agency for the Atlantic High Pressure Lubricating System and the name of the new business will be carried on under the name of the Atlantic Lubricator Company. They have also taken the agency for the Apex Metal Spring Cover and Black Diamond graphite greases.

A portable building will be erected as the company has only a short lease on the property. It is probable that the steel structure will be put up as the company expects to be ready for business in about 30 days.

Bridge Steel Arrives

Four cars of steel to be used in the superstructure of the Tronter-Russell bridge have arrived at Russell and will be placed soon. The work of placing the frame on the first pier on the Russell side will be started immediately.
